GIRLS ARE MADE ILL BY POISONED CANDY

kage of Chocolnte Drops Sent to Miss Lillie Kyger Belleved to Contain Strychnine.

ial to The Times-Dispatch. I HARRISONBURG, VA. April 2.—The little town of Grottoes, Rockingham County, is stirred over a poison mystery. On Saturday, Miss Lillie Kyger, daughter of "Bud" Kyger, received a daughter of "Bud" Kyger, received a box of chocolate drops through the mail. The package was plainly addressed and on a card in the box was a slip of paper bearing the words, "April Fool." Her sister, Miss Cora Kyger, fourteen years old, was made desperately ill by eating two of the drops and her condition is still serious. Miss Lillie Kyger, illies the condition is still serious. Miss Lillie Kyger did not swallow the candy on account of the bitter taste and was not made so lli.

It is believed that the candy contains strychnine. A post-office inspector from Washington is expected to make a investigation, as the candy was sent through the mail. Sheriff Crousehorn of Harrisonburg, is working on a clue that may lead to the apprehension of the guilty person. The sheriff sent the chocolate drops to Richmond, where they will be analyzed by the State

The young woman who received the sandy is seventeen years old. No arrests have been made.

The box arrived in Grottoes by the Norfolk and Western mail train, No 13. Saturday afternoon. The younger girl ate the drops and became death-ty III, complaining at the time that MRS. ELMORE D. HOTCHKISS, JR. there was something bitter about the candy. Dr. W. F. Wissler has been working to save the girl's life. Chances are now in her favor.
